principles of law arise within a test fact pattern. One of the most common misconceptions about law school is that you must memorize each word on every page of your casebooks or outlines to do well on exams. the reality is that you can commit an entire casebook to memory and still do poorly on an exam.

Reviewing hundreds of student answers has shown us that most students pretty much know the law. the ones who do best on exams understand how legal problems (issues) stem from from the rules of law which they have memorized and how to communicate their analysis of these issues to the grader.

Working through Siegel's essay and multiple-choice questions and
