Without love, there is no reason for us to live. Without love there is no purpose for us to go on. Our love of God and love of neighbor are the greatest of all, no other. Let us pray, reflect and ask ourselves: Do I love the Lord above all things? How do I manifest and express my love of God? Have I shown the love of God with my neighbor?

on the lighter side, or tackling heavy spiritual issues, as you envelope yourself In All Things...Moral Reflections and Decisions of Life Issues.

Reflections for a Better Life grew out of a desire to answer questions about the relevance of the biblical message to modern life, and particularly, how to live a better life. Although most of them are exhortatory, many are simply meditations on common themes and are meant to be thought- and action-provoking, rather than authoritative pronouncements on faith or morals. Like the Bible itself, they are often meant to call the reader him- or herself into question and to facilitate reflections on one's life and one's relationship to God.

When is the last time you were discouraged in your relationship with God? Were you distracted by a crying infant during a church service? Did you share the gospel with an unbeliever? Did you hear someone say they "rededicated" their life to Christ? Did you hear an intense conversation about sports among Christian men? Were you equipped by your pastor to present and defend the gospel? If your experience is similar to most Christians, you have probably never spent much time reflecting on the issues above as they pertain to the seriousness of the Christian life. Challenging Reflections on the Christian Life covers topics that include raising children in the church, evangelism, apologetics, men and sports, the concept of "rededication," the pastor's primary responsibility, infants in the sanctuary, knowing God, and much more. This book is designed to encourage you to give deep contemplation to the all-too-common experiences encountered in the Christian life and lead you to an awakened sense of reverence for God and passion for the truth. Whether you are a new Christian or a seasoned pastor, this book will cause you to rethink much of what you see in your life and in your church. "This book is inspiring, encouraging, and challenging. The author carefully and faithfully handles the Scriptures and applies them to our lives. Every Christian will profit from reading this book." Dr. Norman Geisler Professor of Apologetics Veritas Evangelical Seminary

The book is more encouraging to give a better understanding about living in a family and how to be able to reach out to others. The book is about life to love yourself more. Loving yourself more is a way also to love others around, especially those in the family. More often than not, we will more frequently stick to our own opinions and not listen to others. We think that our opinions are always right. In the chapters that follow, by reading the book, it will help readers to have a clear mind of opinions and be more understanding toward others. We tend to behave that we are the only one living at home and no one else is around. By being negative, we tend to feel the loneliness. This book will open up one's mind to be more concise and clear about living a life more fruitful life and being happy in living together as a family.

The life and work of Kim Iryöp (1896–1971) bear witness to Korea's encounter with modernity. A prolific writer, Iryöp reflected on identity and existential loneliness in her poems, short stories, and autobiographical essays. As a pioneering feminist intellectual, she dedicated herself to gender issues and understanding the changing role of women in Korean society. As an influential Buddhist nun, she examined religious teachings and strove to interpret modern human existence through a religious world view. Originally published in Korea when Iryöp was in her sixties, Reflections of a Zen Buddhist Nun (Önũ sudoin ũi hoesang) makes available for the first time in English a rich, intimate, and unfailingly candid source of material with which to understand modern Korea, Korean women, and Korean Buddhism. Throughout her writing, Iryöp poses such questions as: How does one come to terms with one's identity? What is the meaning of revolt and what are its limitations? How do we understand the different dimensions of love in the context of Buddhist teachings? What is Buddhist awakening? How do we attain it? How do we understand God and the relationship between good and evil? What is the meaning of religious practice in our time? We see through her thought and life experiences the co-existence of seemingly conflicting ideas and ideals—Christianity and Buddhism, sexual liberalism and religious celibacy, among others. In Reflections of a Zen Buddhist Nun, Iryōp challenges readers with her creative interpretations of Buddhist doctrine and her reflections on the meaning of Buddhist practice. In the process she offers insight into a time when the ideas and contributions of women to twentieth-century Korean society and intellectual life were just beginning to emerge from the shadows, where they had been obscured in the name of modernization and nation-building.
