As the moon slowly spirals out from the Earth because of tidal drag, the length of each day grows. When dinosaurs first evolved, a day was about 22 hours and 45 minutes long, and the year had 385 days; when they went largely extinct, a day was up to 23 hours and over 30 minutes, and the year was down to 371 days.

The Princeton Field Guide to Dinosaurs by Gregory S. Paul

Dinosaur paleontology has matured in that it is unlikely that a reorganization of similar scale will occur in the future, but we now know enough about the inhabitants of the Mesozoic to have the basics well established. Sauropods will not return to a hippo-like lifestyle, and dinosaurs' tails will not be chronically plowing through ancient muds.

To conclude the Princeton Field Guide to Dinosaurs remains an excellent volume for anyone interested in dinosaurs, but one should remember the Paul's ideas about taxonomy and evolution are not universally accepted and the volume misses some opportunities on a select few taxa, and retains the error in spelling Puertasaurus' name.
